

GERMAN INTERNATIONAL WEEK SCHEDULE 2021

12.12

Tour of ANU Museum of the Jewish People: Following the Jews of Germany	This tour takes us through all three floors of the new ANU museum of the Jewish people, as we follow the unique story of the Jewish Community of Germany. This community traces its origins to the Roman period, with its height in the high Middle ages and again in Modern times, when it led the way in matters of Theology, philosophy and thought for Jews and the world. We begin our tour on the third floor, seeing the cultural contribution of German Jews in the 20th century, in areas such as cinema, art and philosophy. We then continue to the 2nd, historical floor, where we trace, through ancient objects, the history of German Jewry from the 10 to the 20th century, ending our tour in the Hallelujah gallery on the 1st floor, with a model of the Berlin "Neue Synagoge", which survived Kristallnacht. The first 30 registrations are free of charge!	ANU Museum	18:00-19:30
Germans in the House: Student Party	Join TAU's German students for an evening celebrating German culture, including beer and games!	Miflat Student Bar	20:00-23:00

German Film night with Dr. Ido Lewit from The Steve Tisch School of Film and Television - Screening of The Oyster Princess (1919)	Ernest Lubitsch is known as one of the greatest directors of the Golden Age of Hollywood. In the 1930s and 1940s, he directed several movies which became international successes, including To Be or Not to Be (1942), The Shop Around the Corner (1940), and Ninotchka (1939). But few know that the Jewish director was born in Berlin and made his film career debut in Germany. Dr. Ido Lewit of TAU's Steve Tisch School of Film will introduce the screening of one of Lubitsch's early films made in Germany - The Oyster Princess (1919). The film provides a fascinating glimpse into the wonderful world of German Lubitsch, a world where passion, dance, anarchy, and the breaking of gender and status conventions are celebrated in ways beyond the Hollywood framework.	Auditorium, Senate Building	18:00-19:30

"You Are Repose": On the Romantic German Song in Word and Sound	In this event we will explore the phenomenon of nineteenth-century German art song (Lied) through the prism of one of the most beautiful texts from this period "Du bist die Ruh" ("You are repose") by the poet Friedrich Rückert (1788-1866). Dr. Uri Rom (head of the TAU Buchman-Mehta School of Music) and Hanan Yishai of the School of Cultural Studies, TAU Faculty of Humanities, discuss the unique lyrical qualities of Rückert's poem, which has become one of the texts most frequently set to music throughout the Romantic period. Yaara Attias, a vocal student of the School of Music in Prof. Sharon Rostorf-Zamir's studio, who recently made her Bronfman Auditorium debut under Maestro Lahav Shani, will sing	TAU's Buchman- Mehta School of Music	19:00 - 20:15
