Course Catalog
Spring Semester 2022
Course attendance

Students may participate each semester in maximum of five courses. Attendance is mandatory in all courses. Missing lessons will be reflected in the final grade of the course. Up to three justified absence from classes will be accepted (for example: emergency matter, doctor’s note). Such cases of absence should be notified to your lecturer immediately. Students are required to arrive on time for classes. Teachers are entitled to treat any single case of lateness and/or repeated lateness as an unjustified absence.

Course assignments

Please check the exam/final assignment date/schedule before registering to a course. Exchange students cannot take exams on different dates than the regular exam date. You cannot join the course unless you are able to stay in Israel for the final exam. Students will not be allowed to leave a course early. No early departures are given.

Regular Hebrew-taught courses at TAU

Students whose Hebrew is good enough and choose to take courses at the regular university program should check the courses available at the faculty’s websites, and then check with the Exchange Office, the possibility to register to specific courses.

Starting dates, duration, and ending dates of individual courses may vary from one department to another. Please make sure to check the dates of the courses you are registered for.

There may be courses that appear on the website of each department and do not appear in this catalog. These courses are not open for Exchange Students.

• Students are welcome to take any of the other courses on the list.
• However, it will be their responsibility to make sure that if fits their schedule and that they’re able to stay for the duration of the course otherwise they risk forfeiting the grade.

We calculate TAU credits as follows:

- 1 credit = 13 academic hours. Each academic hour is composed of 45 minutes. Accordingly, a one credit course will meet for 585 minutes.
- A two-credit course = 26 academic hours, i.e. 1170 minutes.

Further, TAU Law's drop/add policy is quite strict and we would like to emphasize our policy:

- Semester-long courses: Add/drop during the first two weeks ONLY.
- Quarter-long & condensed courses: Add/drop must be done before the third lesson ONLY. (Class may meet twice/week, so the period is shorter).

Class attendance is mandatory. Students who miss more than three meetings of a semester course, or more than five sessions of an annual course, or attended less than 75% of the meetings in condensed courses, will not be eligible to take the final exam.

Workshops and Seminars: class attendance is mandatory.

We would like to emphasize that several courses have certain prerequisites. (See course description).

Please make sure that you have the prerequisites needed otherwise you might not be able to attend the class.

Generally, classes conducted in English do not overlap, but in the rare case of a conflict, it will not be possible to take classes with conflicting meeting times.

You should be aware that most of the courses are intensive courses, running over a short period of time, and may contain two or three class meetings per week (Changing). This entails a heavy reading and work load during the duration of the course.

Please check « changing » courses schedule within the course description on the website (the website will be adequate in a little while)

This course will challenge students to consider the role, place and responsibility, both theoretically and technically, of various actors when engaging within contexts affected by conflict or other complex emergencies from a humanitarian perspective. The course will incorporate up-to-date realities relevant to COVID-19 and possibly expert guest lecture (depending on availability and students’ interest).

While grounded in humanitarian theory, legal frameworks and codes of conduct the course is designed to focus primarily on some of the up-to-date practical tools used in the humanitarian sector for assessing, programming and planning purposes in fragile and complex environments. These tools will be learnt and experienced through practical exercises, case studies and mini simulations. The adjusted structure of the course is tailored for remote learning.
