Course Description

The course – that includes two movies, a field trip and a guest lecture of an Israeli-Jewish war veteran – deals with an enigmatic phenomenon: collective memory (CM), namely, the way a group views its past events. Specifically, it focuses on the Israeli-Jewish (“Israeli”) CM of the Israeli-Arab/Palestinian conflict (“the conflict”).

CM is an important socio-psychological phenomenon because it significantly influences the social and political spheres, both within a country and externally. This is why in recent decades CM of conflicts has gained major salience worldwide.

The course has three main parts. It starts with (A) a theoretical background regarding CM in general and that of conflicts in particular: the main theories and concepts as well as the characteristics of historical narratives. Based on this theoretical foundation, the course moves on to (B) the Israeli CM of the conflict. This second part is divided into two sub-parts: B1) Israeli CM of the conflict at large, addressing the memory of various major events of the conflict (until the mid-term test); B2) Israeli CM specifically referring to one of the major historical events of the conflict - the 1948 Palestinian exodus, leading to the creation of the Palestinian refugee problem. The final part (C) includes class presentations of the students that address various case studies and topics regarding the Israeli collective memory of the conflict. For more information see below the detailed program of the classes.

TAU International Course Guidelines

Rules and Respectful Behavior

- No cell phones or laptops permitted in class unless approved by instructor for use
- Tardiness to class is not permitted
- As our courses bring together students from many different styles of learning and from a wide variety of home institutions, we ask that students remain respectful to and patient with fellow classmates at all times as some students may be more familiar with certain course material or procedures than others.

Learning Accommodations

In accordance to University guidelines, students with learning disabilities or accommodation requests must submit official documentation from their home country / university (translated into English by notary if not already in English) to TAU International (tauiacademic@tauex.tau.ac.il) in advance of arrival describing in detail any specific needs they have. Students must also bring a copy of this documentation with them on-site and give it to their faculty on the first day of class while introducing themselves so that the faculty know who they are and what sorts of needs they may have. TAU International and its faculty cannot guarantee that all accommodations received at the home school can be similarly met at TAU but certainly does the best it can to make any suitable accommodations possible that are needed.

In-class Exams

TAU does not permit, under any circumstances, taking any in-class (including mid or final) exams early or later than the scheduled exam day. When selecting courses, it is thus very important to note below if there is an in-class midterm or final exam as this date/exam cannot be changed. Early departures from the program are not approved, nor are early or exception in-class exams.

TAU International Absence Policy

Attendance is mandatory in all of the courses. Missing classes will be reflected in the final grade of the course. Up to three justified absences from classes will be accepted (for example: emergency matter or illness, both of which will require an official doctor's note sent to the faculty on the day of the absence). Such cases of absence should be reported to your lecturer immediately and again, a doctor’s note is required. Students are required to arrive on time for classes. Teachers are entitled to treat any single case of lateness and/or repeated lateness as an unjustified absence. Please note that according to TAU Academic Policy, if a student's behavior or attendance during the semester is disagreeable his/her course participation may be cancelled at the discretion of TAU.
Students are responsible for reading and adhering to the policies and procedures in the TAU International Academic Handbook posted here at all times.
